

Jonathan Holloway

Interim CTO

Jonathan is the CTO and responsible for technology strategy and vision at Blis. He leads the team to ensure we provide a highly available, secure, robust and performant system for all of our customers.

His career spans fifteen years of working with technology in analytics, e-commerce and ad-tech domains, architecting, building and scaling B2B/B2C offerings to hundreds of people.

Outside of work, interests include music, food and travel. He is a chartered engineer, with a MPhil research masters and a MEng in software engineering from Aberystwyth University.