

Andy Beames

Global Platform Solutions Director

Andy is Blis' Global Platform Solutions Director, responsible for the commercial development of the company's proprietary technology to help brands, agencies and media businesses achieve their marketing goals.

Andy has been at Blis since 2012 where, in his previous role as Commercial Director, he helped to build the current sales team from 2 to 25 and was responsible for growing revenue for the UK office.

Prior to Blis, Andy has had 14 years experience in mobile and digital media, working at companies such as France Telecom and 4th Screen.

Outside of work, he has a wife and young daughter and spends the precious little spare time that he has despairing over Arsenal FC.
